Q. We were in Big Sur State Park, July 21, when a young mother came in with a badly injured youngster. The child, a 3-year-old called Heather, had been mauled by a bear, and a park ranger rushed her to a hospital in Carmel. Can you tell us how she is? R.D., Long Beach.

A. Yes, Heather's fine, and she was released from Carmel Community Hospital July 29, says Mrs. Wanda Venz, admission clerk. However, the child was struck by a garbage can, not mauled by a bear. Rangers say bears are scarce in the Big Sur area.

Q. Many years ago, when Orson Welles presented a radio program about an invasion from Mars, didn't a lot of people panic and commit suicide? R. L., Long Beach.

A. Yes, Welles' radio adaptation of "War of the Worlds," a science-fiction thriller by H. G. Wells, Oct. 30, 1938, created panic throughout the nation. The realistic "reports" of Martian invaders with death rays and invincible war machines advancing on New Jersey and other eastern states caused many listeners to believe an interplanetary battle had started. A Baltimore man died from a heart attack after listening to the program; in Pittsburgh a man found his wife grasping a bottle of poison and crying, "I'd rather die this way," a San Francisco man called police to volunteer to fight "this awful thing." Scores left their homes intent on flight, and telephone systems were jammed with calls. Hours passed before people were convinced the "news reports" were part of a Mercury Theater fiction production, and the aftermath of the program has become a textbook example of mass hysteria. The show is often replayed as part of Halloween programming by Southland radio stations. The program caused a Congressional investigation, and subsequent regulations make the same thing impossible today.

Q. My daughter found a class ring from Slippery Rock State College while she was at the beach last week. Can you tell us where the college is located, so we can return the ring to the owner? K.B., Long Beach.

A. Yes, Slippery Rock State is located, strangely enough, in Slippery Rock, Pa., a small farming community. Mrs. Louise Glessner, secretary to the dean of students, says she'll check the 3,000 student names to see if she can help locate the owner. She'll notify ACTION LINE, and we'll give you the owner's name.

Q. My husband and I are celebrating our first wedding anniversary next month, and I want to buy, or make, him a paper suit. Can you help? Mrs. S. F., Long Beach.

A. Sure. ACTION LINE will supply some paper and pins — since that's how your anniversary begins, and we've come up with some red, white and blue striped paper material from which you can fashion a rather garish suit. Paper clothing makers are creating vests, football shirts and neckties, but as yet they haven't reached the suit stage. However, to go along with your paper creation, ACTION LINE is supplying a paper necktie in a paisley print.

Q. I'm a member of the Diane Lampel H'nai Brith girls club, and our group has collected about 150 books we'd like to donate to some organization. Does Action Line have any suggestions? T. S., Long Beach.

A. Yes, The youth group of the Lime Avenue Baptist Church is attempting to restore their church library, and your donation would be most welcome. "We need old and unused books for the project," says Archie Johnston, youth minister, "particularly those of a religious or educational nature." For more information, call Johnston at HE 5-2741.

SOUND OFF!

I think it's about time somebody sounded off about the terrible mess our careless city allows to accumulate at bus stops and in the doorways of buildings on the main streets of downtown Long Beach. I think someone mentioned the doorways once before, and I'd like to agree — they are awful. I often ride the bus, and at the bus stop where I wait the entire area is littered with garbage and junk — high grass grows all over the place — and every once in a while somebody drops a lighted match or cigarette and a small fire breaks out. I've called the rubbish collectors, or Sanitation Department, several times, only to learn I really should call the Health Department. I did, and for a couple of days the area was clean. But, that was months ago, and now the area is more horrible than ever. I suggest the city put a litter basket at each bus stop — it might help, and it wouldn't be too expensive. I sometimes wonder why the people living in such areas don't complain, but maybe they hide behind their high stone fences. S. K., Long Beach.

REACTION

In response to V.C.J., who sounded off about how we should all stop complaining about the administration's War on Poverty and help others on an individual basis — person to person — I might say V.C.J. forgot to say just how he or she is doing that. Does he serve full-time in the armed service, work as a volunteer in neighborhood projects, the Peace Corps, or some other worthwhile organization, or provide service as a policeman, fireman, doctor or hospital attendant? Does V.C.J. give some of his wages to worthwhile charity groups such as the United Fund, the March of Dimes or programs for war orphans? These are person-to-person services. Or does V.C.J. think he has done his part by pounding out 125 words on a typewriter urging others to give and help? Perhaps V.C.J. wants us to "give" to support a hippie who is too lazy to work and earn his way, too lazy even to keep clean and shaved. Or maybe V.C.J. wants us to support insurrectionists. Well, I for one am in favor of helping those who need and deserve help, but I'm tired of being taxed just to pay handouts for loafers to loaf, or $10,000 salaries to people who work an hour or two each week, or paying the bills for political committees. Let's get a program to take people off poverty rolls, give them jobs and pay to re-establish self respect, and not teach our youth how to get money without earning it. Mrs. V. B., K., Long Beach.

'Queen' to Book Guests

Liner Will Take 1,200 Passengers on Last Voyage

By DON BRACKENBURY

The City of Long Beach signed the contract Friday to buy the 81,000-ton Queen Mary, and announced it will accept up to 1,200 passengers for the 14,500-mile delivery voyage.

Rates and procedures for booking passage on the final voyage of the Cunard Line's luxury vessel will be announced next week.

The Queen Mary will leave Southampton, England, sometime between Oct. 22 and 30, and journey around Cape Horn to Long Beach.

Mayor Edwin W. Wade said Friday night, "City business will, of course, prevent us (the City Council) from making that long, last trip from London, but we intend to be on board when she docks in Long Beach — even if we have to stop her in the middle of the ocean to get on."

Beach, with stops at Cherbourg, Lisbon, Las Palmas (Canary Islands), Rio de Janeiro, Valparaiso, Callao, Balboa and Acapulco.

Vice Mayor Robert F. Crow, who headed the Long Beach team which negotiated the contract with officials of Cunard Steamship Co. Ltd., said in London the final voyage will be "a unique experience in maritime history."

Long Beach councilmen voted unanimously Friday, in a special session, to approve the contract and authorize the city manager's office to execute it. The word was flashed to London by telephone.

The city will pay Cunard $3,450,000 for the 1,019-foot-long vessel.

A deposit of $345,000 was to be placed into a joint city-Cunard account at a London bank. The balance of $3,105,000 and the deposit will be paid to Cunard not later than the day before the beginning of the delivery voyage.

THE CITY agreed to accept the Queen Mary within 72 hours of its arrival in Long Beach, which is scheduled the first week in December.

Louisiana Girds for Race Woe

United Press International

Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen said Friday night he would activate up to 1,000 more National Guardsmen to insure a adequate protection for Negroes attending a week-end civil rights rally in Baton Rouge.

In Syracuse, N.Y., police patrols kept a tight rein on possible racial violence.

Sporadic racial violence flared in Painesville, Ohio, and Jamesburg, N.J., early Friday, while in Houston, scene of violence Wednesday night, firemen answered 24 alarms.

McKEITHEN went on statewide television Friday night to pledge additional reinforcements for the 650 troops he called out Thursday to help 175 state police protect a group of Negroes on the last leg of their 100-mile march from Bogalusa to the state capital.

The marchers arrived on the outskirts of Baton Rouge Friday night after a (Continued Page A-4, Col. 6)

JACK KIRSCHKE ENCOURAGED Odds Against Conviction Soar

PROSECUTOR ALBERT HARRIS DEJECTED Fears Ruling to Harm Police Procedure

JUDGE'S RULING A SETBACK

Kirschke Trial Next Week

By SHERM WILLIAMS
Suspended Deputy District Attorney Jack Kirschke's trial in the double murder of his wife and her lover is expected to begin officially next week — but odds against his conviction soared Friday from a pre-trial ruling that ruled his arrest illegal.

Superior Court Judge Kathleen Parker's ruling, announced in a packed Los Angeles courtroom, admittedly was a severe blow to the prosecution, which alleges Kirschke played the role of an avenging, jealous husband by shooting to death his wife, fashion designer Elaine Terry Kirschke, and Orville William Drankhan, in a bedroom at the Kirschke home in the Naples section of Long Beach last April 8.

JUDGE Parker in her ruling also excluded the prosecution from introducing as evidence statements Kirschke made after his arrest, and ruled the prosecution cannot introduce in evidence a bloodstained knit shirt found in his car when he was taken into custody about a day after the murders.

The woman jurist declared the arrest of Kirschke ke was illegal because police did not have sufficient evidence to back up an all-points bulletin issued for his apprehension as a murder suspect.

She cited a U.S. Supreme Court decision which holds that:

"Reasonable or probable cause for an arrest without a warrant is shown if a man of ordinary caution and prudence would be led to believe and conscientiously entertain an honest or strong suspicion that the accused is guilty of a felony."

She added: "And I emphasize the word 'is.'"

Judge Parker added: "The court feels that although the police had reasonable cause to believe that the defendant may have been guilty or might have been guilty, that the information known to them at the time was insufficient for them to have a strong suspicion that the defendant was guilty of the felonies for which he was arrested."

Dep. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris, obviously shaken by the decision, begged the court time until Monday to think over a motion to reconsider.

The prosecutor also disclosed that one of two guns Kirschke owned was of the caliber that killed Elaine Kirschke and her fellow murder victim.

"Checking through the records, we found that one (of the pistols) was of the model that was used in the killings," Harris said.

KIRSCHKE told police about his pistols during the two days he was in custody after first having been arrested. If his statements during the time of arrest are excluded from the trial it could also exclude what Harris says is the murder weapon.

In a surprise interruption of the presentation of arguments over L.A. County Grand Jury testimony which Albert C. S. Ramsey, Kirschke's attorney, says should be suppressed, Harris had this to say:

"I suppose, as any good lawyer should, I should accept the ruling and that would be that."

However, he said, "I would like until Monday — over the weekend — to reconsider the position we (Continued Page A-4, Col. 1)

Heat Breaks Record (Gasp!) 94 (Agh!)

A late-afternoon surge of heat chased Long Beach thermometers from 91 degrees at 3 p.m. to 93 at 5 p.m. and a record-setting 94 degrees at 6 p.m. Friday.

The weatherman said that the 94-degree reading eclipsed the previous high for Aug. 18 — 87 degrees in 1960 and again in 1963.

What's more, the prognosticator added, you can expect more of the same today. The same failing afternoon breezes will act to keep hotter air close to the ground — and to Long Beach citizens.

ON FRIDAY, the combination of heat and the absent offshore breeze combined to send thousands of Long Beach-area families to the seashore. Today should see a duplication of that — with more people involved.

Planes Rip North; Viet Turning Point?

Combined News Services

SAIGON — U.S. B52 bombers raided a big Communist military buildup area today in the fifth consecutive day of strikes by the eight-engine Stratofortresses on both sides of the demilitarized zone. Fighter-bombers, meanwhile, hammered a power plant, railroad sidings, bridges, truck convoys, storage areas and a boat repair yard in raids Friday in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam. Ground fighting was marked by small skirmishes and U.S. Marines, paratroopers and infantrymen reported killing a total of 43 Communist troops in four clashes. The American casualties were two dead and 17 wounded.

Meanwhile, high U.S. officials said Communist forces in Vietnam are now losing men faster than they can replace them. Figures given in a press briefing marked a possible major turning point in the war. The officials said there is now a gap of 2,500 to 6,000 men between the number of troops the Communists lose and reinforcements they can recruit or infiltrate. On the political front, a proposal by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., that South Vietnam's presidential election be delayed for a month drew approval from several civilian candidates, but Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said today the Sept. 3 election would not be postponed.

Jordan Refugees Trickle Across

ALLENBY BRIDGE, Israel — Silent and bedraggled, only 355 Arab refugees from the June war crossed from Jordan to Israeli-held Jordanian territory Friday in the first day of repatriation. At least 1,000 had been expected and Israel and Jordan blamed each other for the slowdown. Jordan announced that 167,500 of the more than 200,000 refugees had applied to return to their homes. But Israeli officials doubted more than 35,000 could be repatriated before the Aug. 31 deadline. Most of the refugees were women, children and bent old men in long robes. Commented Brig. Abdullah Rafee, secretary of Jordan's refugee committee: "It seems the Israelis have selected only the very young and very old and have taken no chances on letting young men return yet."

U.S. Bishops Hail Reforms

NEW YORK — Several American Roman Catholic leaders hailed Friday the action by Pope Paul VI to internationalize the Vatican's centuries-old administrative cabinet, the Roman Curia. "Most encouraging," said Archbishop Paul Hallinan of Atlanta. "Bishops from all over the world will now take part in the Curia's decisions," he said. "The new five-year limit and the change of the guard on the death of the pope will curb the perpetuation of old practices by old men."

The reforms will turn the Curia into something similar to a modern government cabinet. It will have a virtual prime minister and a "finance ministry" that, for the first time, will draw up an annual budget and control all of the church's vast riches throughout the world. Pope Paul said his secretary of state, now the 84-year-old Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, will have the additional title of "papal secretary" and will be virtually both premier and foreign minister of the Vatican. Other major provisions of the document, hotly contested by conservative powerholders, include: Cutting the terms of top Curia officials to five years; allowing the use of "widely known" modern languages in communications with the Holy See.

Red Guards Mount Rallies

HONG KONG — Communist Chinese Red Guards Friday celebrated the first anniversary of their formal debut while the nation writhed in the turmoil they helped create. In one key area, Canton, virtual civil war was reported raging as troops loyal to the regime of party leader Mao Tse-tung battled to restore order in the southern metropolis, which Red Guard rampages have turned into a city of death. Hundreds of thousands of Red Guards staged rallies in Peking and other major cities Friday to celebrate their first public appearance.

National

Windstorms, Rain Buffet Middle West

Violent weather tore up the center of the nation Friday from Texas to the upper Middle West. Tornadoes and funnel clouds provided a line from southern Michigan to Missouri along a new source of cold air thrusting down from Canada. Tornadoes touched ground in northeastern Missouri. There were no reports of damages or injuries. Funnel clouds were seen throughout northeastern Illinois where destructive storms struck with torrential rain and bursts of hail in the late afternoon. Trees were downed around Chicago. A child was hurt when a window was blown in. Many suburbs reported power failures and standing water in streets and underpasses. Downtown Chicago was dark as night at 4 p.m. Telephone service was interrupted. Flights at O'Hare International Airport, the nation's second busiest, were delayed. Funnel clouds were seen over South Bend, Ind., and near Iowa, Kan. Wind damage and heavy rain were reported in northwestern Indiana and northwestern Arkansas. More than 2 inches of rain drenched Bellevue, Mo., 75 miles southwest of St. Louis. Boulder, Colo.; De Kalb, Ill., and Corpus Christi, Tex., all had more than 1 inch of rain. The Pacific Northwest continued to bake in prolonged drought. A three-day air pollution alert in New York City, New Jersey, Connecticut and eastern Pennsylvania was lifted as a cool front broke a smog cover.

Sliding-Scale Tuition Upheld

LANSING, Mich. — Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley Friday upheld the legality of a sliding-scale tuition plan at Michigan State University based on a family's ability to pay. Kelley said in his opinion "the tuition plan, based generally on parental gross income, does not violate the equal protection clause of either the state or federal constitutions."

Smog Lifts on East Coast

NEW YORK — A warm sun and ventilating winds combined Friday to lift a lid of smog which choked much of the Eastern seaboard since Wednesday. The Weather Bureau said heavy showers today should complete the "wash out" job.

Fairbanks River Retreats Slowly

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — The flooding Chena River continued its painfully slow retreat Friday, but many sections of this ravaged city of 30,000 remained under a dirty brown blanket of water, mud and debris. Working in teams, Army engineers sought to assess the full damage wrought by the Chena, which went wild Monday and Tuesday, killing at least three people in the city and spreading damage that is expected to amount to $200 million or more. Two others died in the flooding Tok River, 200 miles to the southeast.

Claims RFK Bid to Teamster

CHICAGO — A codefendant of James Hoffa, imprisoned Teamsters Union president testified Friday that a former Justice Department aide of Robert F. Kennedy offered him evidence of government wiretapping in exchange for his help in discrediting Jim Garrison, New Orleans district attorney. Zachary (Red) Strate, a New Orleans builder, was called to the witness stand at the hearing ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court to determine whether illegally obtained government evidence was instrumental in the 1964 conviction of Hoffa and six others, including Strate. Strate said he met Walter Sheridan June 12 at a New Orleans hotel. He said the meeting was arranged by Judge Malcolm O'Hara. "Walter Sheridan offered me evidence of government bugging," Strate said, "so I could get a new trial at my hearing in Chicago, in exchange for helping to discredit Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison."

Space Program Slashed

WASHINGTON — America's interplanetary space program suffered a severe fund slash Friday by an ax-swinging House Appropriations Committee. The committee reduced the budget requests of the national Aeronautics and Space Administration from $5.1 billion to $4.58 billion and in the process eliminated all funds for the Voyager Mars program and halved funds for nuclear rocket development. The committee also pared the construction budget, eliminating $3.1 million asked for expansion of Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory and cutting from $5.3 million to $3.2 million for additions to the Ames Research Laboratory at Mountain View. The action is sure to bring a stiff floor battle by congressmen who believe that the cuts would delay future space explorations both manned and unmanned.

Fires Blacken 40,000 Acres

Fires spread through nearly 40,000 acres in five Western states and British Columbia Friday in the worst outbreak this year in the Pacific Northwest's tinder dry forests. Hardest hit was the Canadian province where flames fanned by strong winds and snoring temperatures raged through more than 25,000 acres. Two large blazes raged in Montana's Glacier National Park, while scores of small blazes were touched off by lightning storms at Yosemite National Park in California.

Rockefeller to Sterilize Rats

NEW YORK — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller Friday announced a program to sterilize rats with minute doses of drugs similar to those used as oral contraceptives. The technique has been worked out in laboratories. Tests will be started to find methods of administering the drugs to field mice, which are not as cooperative as laboratory mice. Dr. Sheldon Segal of the Population Council said he thought massive application of the program in slum areas around the state could begin by 1969.

Fast Footwork...Clay Takes Bride

COMBINED News Services

Boxer Cassius Clay and 17-year-old Belinda Boyd were wed Friday night at his South Side Chicago home.

Clay 25, and Miss Boyd were wed in a Black Muslim ceremony. Clay's parents flew in from Louisville, Ky., but were too late to attend the ceremony. They did, however, attend a reception at the home.

The bride was dressed in the fashion of members of the Black Muslim sect with a floor-length white dress and veil. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Boyd of suburban Blue Island, attended the ceremony.

The couple planned to leave for a honeymoon in Hawaii. Clay and Miss Boyd took out a marriage license Thursday, with Clay, deposed world heavyweight boxing champion.

Clay was stripped of his title by most boxing groups for refusing to be drafted into the Army. He is appealing a prison sentence of five years for refusing to take the military induction oath.

OFF TO HANOI

H. Rap Brown, the militant leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, revealed Friday that Stokely Carmichael "will arrive in Hanoi today" to investigate "savage aggression" by the U.S.

Brown said that the former national chairman of the committee would look into a report that the U.S. "is experimenting with weapons there that would be effective in destroying black people in the ghetto without damaging the property."

Asked if Carmichael had received State Department permission to travel to Hanoi, Brown replied: "Of course not, why should he?"

'NOT TRUE'

A former Navy pilot denied at Midland, Mich., Friday that he had said fillers launched from carriers off Vietnam dump about a third of their bombs and rockets into the sea and are pressed into useless missions by commanders trying to amass combat records.

The paper which quoted former Lt. Alex Water on ordnance dropping and necessity of missions in a copyrighted story Tuesday, said it was sticking by its report. Water said he had been incorrectly quoted.

PRESS SEARCH

Czechoslovakian officials advised the U.S. Friday they have ordered a "nationwide search" for Charles H. Jordan, 59, an American citizen who vanished when he went out to buy a newspaper in Prague three nights ago.

Jordan is executive vice chairman of the Joint Distribution Committee, an international Jewish relief organization. He arrived in Prague Monday on holiday with his wife.

GARY FRASER He Was Never Scared

CRY A LITTLE

Gary Fraser, a 10-year-old boy who spent 10 harrowing days lost in the wilds of the High Sierra east of Fresno, with no food, Friday said he was never scared — but admitted he "cried a little."

The boy said he first realized he was lost when he "saw all of those meadows" that were unfamiliar to him. The boy wandered away from his parents' camp Aug. 8 and was found Thursday afternoon when he walked into the nearly deserted camp of a searching party that was preparing to leave.

His father, Roy Fraser, Santa Monica, saw his son Friday in his hospital room for the first time since he disappeared. He told newsmen the boy is "tough, independent and stubborn. That's why he got away from us. That's why I hadn't given up hope."

He said he became lost because "I tried to climb my favorite mountain" at the 10,000-foot level of the Sierra, 75 miles northeast of Fresno. It was the second time the boy had gone into the Sierra, and the second time he had become lost.

His arms were covered with sores from mosquito bites. His thigh was infected from a gash suffered when he tripped on a rock and fell. His abdomen was distended. His fingers and his upper legs were swollen.

A physician who flew to the rescue camp and accompanied the boy to a Fresno hospital by helicopter termed the boy's survival "fantastic" and "miraculous."

The boy said once he saw a searching helicopter. But he said he never saw any of the 40 men who hunted 10 days for him. He tried to attract the attention of the helicopter pilot but said he "couldn't yell loud enough."

OLD MOVIE

The prince and princess of Monaco took their two older children to MGM's Hollywood studio Friday to see one of Her Majesty Grace Kelly's old movies. Studio executives joined them, and actor Rock Hudson sat at Grace's left. Then came a projection room showing of her 1956 film, "High Society." The family leaves Sunday for Monaco.

LONG LOOK

Gov. George Romney, of Michigan in his first long look at U.S. Chinese policy, said Friday the U.S. should abandon its "rigid" opposition to admission of Red China to the UN.

Instead, he said, U.S. policy should be directed toward encouraging the Communist Chinese to prepare for U.N. membership side-by-side with Nationalist China.

CONFIRMED

The Senate confirmed Paul R. Ignatius as secretary of the Navy Friday but sidetracked President Johnson's nomination of Townsend Hoopes as undersecretary of the Air Force. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., asked the Senate to withhold confirming Hoopes. He said he was "disturbed" by Hoopes' contention that the Soviet Union would like to end the war in Vietnam "because the longer it goes on, the greater is the risk of its involvement."

REDUCED

A $1.2-million damage award to a woman who became a quadriplegic after a spinal operation was set aside Friday in a Los Angeles court under a stipulated agreement.

Mrs. Arva Beckhart, 36, West Covina, was awarded the amount two months ago by a jury. She was paralyzed following a spinal operation Sept. 23, 1965. Under the agreement, it was believed, Mrs. Beckhart receives $300,000. The judgment was against Dr. Paul Harmon of West Covina.

NOT ABROAD

Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik acknowledged Friday that deposed President Sukarno is ill "but going abroad for medical treatment is out of the question." He told reporters Sukarno's ailment, believed to be a kidney stone, could be taken care of by local doctors.

ALIMONY

Dancer Vera Ellen was granted $2,000 a month temporary alimony from oilman Victor B. Rothschild Friday in Los Angeles court. Judge Earl C. Broady made the order effective pending trial of the couple's contested divorce suit.

Rothschild, 45, filed for divorce last Sept. 14. Miss Ellen, 46, filed a cross-complaint a month later.

COMMANDANT

Col. Robin Olds, World War II flying ace who has shot down four MIGs in Vietnam, Friday was named commandant of cadets at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. effective Dec. 1.

Olds, who is married to movie actress Ella Raines, came chief of staff for the Louis T. Selth, who will be succeeded by Brig. Gen. 7th Air Force in Vietnam.

WILL MARRY

The fiancée of Melinda Marx, 27, daughter of American comedian Groucho Marx, said in Paris Friday he and Melinda plan to be married in mid-September somewhere in the Paris area.

The fiancée, Jacques Guilleux, is a clerk in the town hall of the industrial suburb of Saint-Denis, where he lives. He told reporters he and Melinda had just returned from Israel where they met while working on a collective farm.

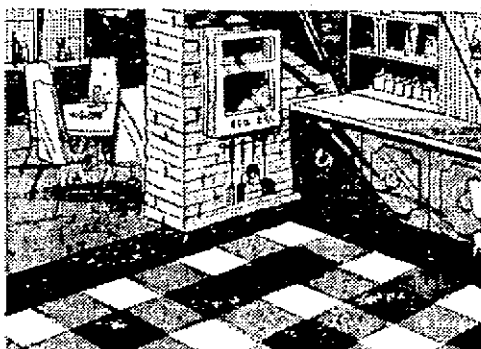

EXPENSIVE

Actress Anna Maria Alberghetti told police she had an expensive phototaking session in Los Angeles. Her $11,000 diamond ring was missing afterward. CHARGE SOME MAKE $100,000, MORE

Medi-Cal: Doctors' Gravy

By GEORGE LAINE

Some California doctors made $100,000 and more out of the state's Medi-Cal health program — designed to render medical services to the needy — during the first 16 months of the program's operation, the director of the State Office of Health Care Services charged Friday in Sacramento.

At the same time, the Reagan administration, flayed by doctors and politicians alike over the $210-million cutback, found a surprise ally in Long Beach Assemblyman Mike Cullen, a Democrat.

Cullen suggested that one way the doctors might better serve needy persons who are ill would be to charge them fees more in line with the service involved and the patient's ability to pay.

"If the adherents to the Oath of Hippocrates deem preventive services essential," Cullen said, pointedly, "then consideration should be given by them to the reduction of present fees."

Cullen's unusual defense of the Reagan cutback cast him as virtually a soloist.

The chorus of angry opponents of the governor's cutback Friday gained new voices as Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty, Long Beach Dr. Malcolm Todd (president-elect of the California Medical Association), L.A. County Supervisors Kenneth Hahn and Eugene Debs, Arthur E. Brandt, president of the California Association of Nursing Homes, and Dr. William H. Hanford, president of the California Dental Association.

Most of them argued that the Reagan reduction of Medi-Cal to a $600-million limit would deprive many needy persons of health care.

"Many people with hernias that keep them from working will have to become emergencies before we can fix them," Dr. Todd declared.

Carel Mulder, who heads the state's Office of Health Care Services, while declining to call his charges against Medi-Cal doctors an attack on medical ethics, did say that about 1,200 doctors had taken $70,000 each from the state's Medi-Cal funds.

He added, however, that many doctors had engaged in "unnecessary services," then billed the state for the expense. Unneeded surgery and nonessential injections were high on the list of these "services," Mulder said.

Mulder declared that the cutback order — invoked by Spencer Williams, State Health and Welfare Agency administrator — would include two provisions that might aid in forcing some of California's doctors to address themselves to a more realistic fee schedule.

Hereafter, Mulder said, fees may not exceed those in effect on Jan. 1, 1967. Mulder said this would prevent any further "escalation" of the fees.

In addition, state Medi-Cal officials will attempt to scrutinize more closely the fees falling in the upper ranges. Overcharging cases are submitted to local medical societies for handling, but they have no disciplining role.

Mulder said it is possible that tightening up on fees could save the Medi-Cal program as much as $15 to $20 million each year.

While the average for the 1,200 physicians who obtained half of the $167 million in fees from Medi-Cal was $70,000 over the 16-month period, Mulder noted that about 300 doctors apparently received from $80,000 to as much as $110,000.

TOPLESS WEDDING TODAY

Donna Low will get a few things off her chest before she gets married this afternoon. One of the things will be her brassiere. Another will be the top half of her wedding gown.

Donna, 23-year-old bare-bosomed dancer at the Whale House in Carson, will marry 34-year-old widower Gerald Meyer on the stage of the Whale House, 115 W. Sepulveda Blvd., at 4 p.m.

He will wear a tuxedo. So will his best man.

She will wear a white wedding gown that starts at the floor and stretches up to just below her ample bosom. So will her bridesmaids.

Tickets for the wedding are $2.50 each.

Kidney Transplant for Girl

Thirteen-year-old Diana McGuire of Orange is facing a nine-hour kidney transplant operation Wednesday at the UCLA Medical Center in Westwood.

Diana will not be the only patient in the operating room. Her mother Mrs. Mariana McGuire will be donating one of her own kidneys in the difficult operation.

Diana has been in the hospital for many months, staying alive through the aid of a mechanical kidney machine which is performing the function of her now useless organs.

Mrs. McGuire, secretary to the manager of the Orange Chamber of Commerce, said she is not worried about the operation itself — which will be performed by Dr. Donald C. Martin and a team of eight doctors. Right now, her worry is the big pile of hospital and doctor bills which have mounted since Diana was taken ill. A total of about $25,000 will be needed for the bills before Diana is back on her feet, it is estimated.

Several groups are trying to take the monetary worry away from Mrs. McGuire. Among them are ham radio operators who have been spreading the word about the problems of the mother and daughter.

A fund-raising benefit dance for the McGuires will be held Sunday at the Anaheim Elks Lodge.

Jim Beam, trust department manager of the First National Bank of Orange, is in charge of the fund drive.

Fullerton, Other Clubs Quit CDC

By BOB GEIVET

The Fullerton Democratic Club will disassociate from the California Democratic Council (or Club) and, said President Rene Steinhauer, other Orange County clubs will quit the CDC because "they're disenchanted."

Steinhauer is a member of the CDC board of directors, but said he will not resign that post immediately. He said he will attend the CDC's widely-heralded "peace convention" Sept. 30 in Long Beach, but that he opposes its announced stand against Vietnam involvement.

"I intend to give them a bad time" (at the convention), Steinhauer declared.

He said his Fullerton club voted 21 to 10 for withdrawal from the CDC, and voted 26 to 5 not to participate in the Long Beach convention.

Steinhauer said the Garden Grove, Brea and Buena Park clubs already have withdrawn from the CDC, and that La Habra has "taken the first step."

He predicted only three Democratic clubs in Orange County will retain CDC affiliation, along with the two Young Democrat Clubs still holding in CDC membership.

Originally, CDC had 23 Democratic clubs in Orange County as members. Yorba Linda and Placentia clubs are inactive, but are considering consolidation independent of the CDC.

Steinhauer predicted the CDC "will wind up with only the Cypress Democratic Club, the newly-formed La Paz club at La Habra and the Marina group of the Newport Harbor area."

Torrance Firm to Develop Motor MWD COSTS UP BUT TAXES SAME

From Our National Bureau

WASHINGTON — A California firm has been commissioned to make a smogless motor capable of powering commuter trains at speeds up to 200 miles per hour.

The Garrett Corp. of Torrance was awarded a $950,000 contract by the U.S. Transportation Department to manufacture within 18 months a prototype electric motor that could be used on air-cushion vehicles.

The firm already has complete a nine-month-long study of linear induction electric motors capable of producing 2,500 horsepower.

Garrett will conduct static tests of the prototype and, if these are successful, the department plans to install the motor in an air-cushion vehicle.

The vehicle would be tracked for guidance and run along a guideway to prevent the sway that is characteristic of most surface-effects vehicles. No contract has been let for its construction, however.

Linear induction motors operate with less noise than conventional motors. The tracked air cushion system would require no more right of way than old-fashioned Trolley-type commuter trains.

The linear electric motor differs from rotating electric motors commonly used to operate machinery today. In the linear motor the rotor (armature) and the coils are spread lengthwise. One of the two elements of the motor passes over the other, separated by air. In the rotating motor, the armature spins inside the coils.

KETCH SINKS, SKIPPER RESCUED HOURS LATER

An Orange man, alone on his 40-foot ketch when it sprang a leak and sank off South Laguna Beach, was rescued Friday from a dinghy he rode several hours before being spotted by a passing boat.

William B. Lentz, 50, of 2430 E. Walnut St., said he was en route to San Diego in his ketch "Skipper" when he heard a "gurgling" sound below and found his bilge flooded Thursday night.

For hours he waged a losing battle with a hand pump, then abandoned the craft 10 miles off the coast.

After drifting for hours, Lentz was spotted by the sportfishing boat Newporter, and taken aboard Friday morning.

He was returned to the Orange County Harbormaster's dock, then sent to Hoag Memorial Hospital at Newport Beach for emergency treatment.

'Way We Planned It,' Says Kirschke

mick," Harris said the review board could possibly direct the lower court (Judge Parker) to reverse itself.

"With a ruling like this," Harris said, "every police station would have to have its own lawyer to check with before issuing an all-points bulletin."

"I don't mean to criticize the judge, because I think she made her ruling sincerely, but . . ."

Kirschke also wasn't criticizing the judge.

As reporters walked by to get the judge to clarify her ruling he shouted:

"She's a nice judge — don't get her mad at us."

Although Kirschke says he is no more confident following the ruling than before, he showed more sureness, and said he feels the ruling will not be reversed. "There isn't any more evidence he (Harris) can bring in to get a reversal," he said. "It's all locked up in the transcript."

He bases his confidence on the testimony of Long Beach Police Capt. Maurice Wishon, who ordered the all-points bulletin issued.

The question asked by Ramsey was:

"Have you told us on direct examination everything, any information that you received from (Det. Inspector) McIntire prior to 6:30 a.m.?"

The answer was "yes, sir."

And on the evidence he gave the court, he based his decision to issue the APB, Kirschke says.

"That evidence is in the court's transcript — all locked up. Nothing can be added."

"Of course," added the former deputy district attorney, "we feel it's a vindication of our judgment. We felt all along it was a bum pinch."

Ramsey, although obviously elated over the decision, pushed ahead on his next motion, which he said was "just as important" as the other two.

The new motion, which will continue to be argued Monday, is to suppress the testimony of several witnesses regarding the mental condition of the murdered Mrs. Elaine Terry Kirschke before her death.

Of the prosecutions case, Ramsey commented, "They're dead."

Ramsey, however, also had high praise for the judge:

"There's been a lot of stress in this case — a lot of attention on it. It took guts, but she knows her law."

As for Judge Parker, already aware that her decision was causing stirrings far beyond her courtroom, she commented:

"You've got to call 'em as you see 'em. And that's the way I saw it."

Auto Driver Dies in Bus Collision

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP)—A car smashed into a Greyhound bus on Interstate 75 Friday night, killing one man in the auto and injuring one of the 38 passengers on the bus.

The car burst into flames, and the Auglaize County Sheriff's Department said the lone occupant was an unidentified Michigan man.

One of the bus passengers, a woman, was admitted to Memorial Hospital at nearby Lima. Several other persons aboard the bus were shaken up.

insure the vessel against damage or loss.

The regular Queen Mary crew will sail the ship on its final voyage and then will be flown back home to England.

The city actually has until Sept. 20 to notify Cunard whether it intends to have passengers on the final trip, but this decision has, in effect, already been made.

Except for personal effects of crew members and equipment owned by companies other than Cunard — such as some concessions aboard — the Queen Mary will be turned over to the city fully equipped.

HOWEVER, the contract also provides that the purchase shall not include:

"The personal standard of Her Majesty Queen Mary, and, unless the permission of the respective owners is obtained by or on behalf of the city, the signed portraits by Dorothy Wilding of Her Majesty Queen Mary and Her Majesty King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, and the carved relief plaque in silver bronze frame of Her Majesty Queen Mary."

City Manager John R. Mansell told councilmen the city officials in London were seeking permission to retain the portraits and plaque.

The Long Beach delegation in London, which is expected to return this weekend, includes Crow, Harbor Commissioner H. E. (Bud) Ridings, City Attorney Leonard Putnam and Harry Fulton of the city manager's office.

The State Lands Commission approved use of tide-land oil funds for the $3,450,000 purchase price and also for up to $1.1 million in costs to transport the Queen Mary to her new home alongside Pier J in the Port of Long Beach.

The city plans to develop a maritime museum aboard the Queen Mary, and to lease sections of the ship for hotel, convention and restaurant facilities.

Teacher Strikes Threaten in East

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — The American Federation of Teachers raised the prospect Friday that cities employing more than 100,000 teachers might not be able to open school next month because of contract disputes.

Charles Cogen, the teacher union president, said that "little or no progress" had been made in contract negotiations in several cities and that at present it was "very, very questionable" that schools would open in New York, Detroit, Baltimore and several smaller cities.

Cogen, speaking at a news conference prior to the federation's convention here next week, said the nation was "confronted with a very, very serious situation" in these negotiations. The organization would back any walkouts with "every possible means at our disposal," he added.

Cogen indicated that there was a serious prospect of mass resignations in New York, where its affiliate has 50,000 members and represents 61,000 teachers, and of strikes in the Detroit area, where the union has 11,000 members and represents 16,000 teachers.

He indicated the chance of trouble was somewhat less in Baltimore, where the union has 2,000 members and represents 8,000 teachers.

The union leader said that there also were crises approaching in a number of smaller cities, including Yonkers, N.Y., and Lawrence, Mass.

Henry B. Linne, president of the Michigan Federation of Teachers, said there would be strikes in as many as 90 Michigan districts employing 30,000 teachers.

combined to peril about 50 seafarers, volunteer workers continued their vigil with Joe Devlin, the city's public works director, in charge.

"The sandbags are holding," Devlin said. "We're going to have it like this through at least Sunday night." About 1,000 feet of Newport's coastline is sandbagged, from 36th Street to 42nd Street.

"We've got some people in the water now," Devlin said late Friday night, "but they're just trying to replace sandbags as they wash away. In the morning, when the tide goes down, we'll try and get it shored up again."

ELSEWHERE, the Southland was told to prepare for thunder, lightning and some showers in the mountains and deserts, patchy fog and clouds along the coast and readings exceeding 100 degrees in a dozen or more valley and desert locations.

At least 40 fires were started by sporadic lightning which raked the Angeles, Los Padres and Cleveland National Forests on Friday. More are in store for the weekend.

day of harassment from white hockers. The march will resume this afternoon and end with a rally in a park tonight. H. Rap Brown, head of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, was to address a rally on the capitol steps Sunday.

The civil rights marchers, enclosed by a protective wall of National Guardsmen and state police, came under a hail of eggs as they passed through Denham Springs.

HUNDREDS of eggs splashed the column. Firecrackers popped. At one point, a fight involving white and Negro spectators was quickly broken up. Several men were arrested and hustled away.

The state put a ring of iron around the march as it passed through Ku Klux Klan country that was buzzing like an angry hornets' nest.

In Syracuse, four teenage Negroes were arrested late Friday night on disorderly conduct charges when they refused to obey a police order to disperse. Earlier, Mayor William F. Walsh blamed "irresponsible leaders in the Negro community" and "irresponsible leaders at the national level" for outbreaks of violence which began earlier this week.

John F. O'Connor, sworn in Thursday night as the new Syracuse police chief, met earlier with Negroes who demanded the removal of two patrolmen who made an arrest Monday night which supposedly touched off two nights of racial violence. O'Connor also enlisted the aid of Negro youths whose purpose it would be to discourage continued outbreaks.

THE VIOLENCE Thursday night and Friday morning in Syracuse appeared to be easing off. Police fired warning shots and hurled tear gas to disperse roving bands of Negroes smashing windows and stoning cars.

Five persons were slightly injured and at least 27 — three of them white — were arrested. Most were charged with violations of the 19-hour curfew clamped on the city Thursday.

Bricks struck police cars, and 11 Negroes were arrested on suspicion of arson in a rash of fires in Houston. Police said 10 of the fires were confirmed cases of arson. Only one was serious.

In Painesville, five Negro youths were charged with firing at a passing car, and fire-suspected to have been set deliberately — destroyed a lumber storage building.

In Jamesburg, about 20 young Negroes smashed about 15 windows.

of which were within 10 miles of the Red Chinese frontier. Some have claimed the raids were likely to draw China into the war.

But the President said the attacks had been on "carefully selected targets" and had been carried out by "the most highly trained pilots we have." All the bombs, he said, had been squarely on target.

He said he was confident that he had not exceeded his authority in conducting the war, but he challenged Congress to withdraw the powers granted him in the Gulf of Tonkin resolution in 1964, if the lawmakers really believed he had acted unwisely or improperly.

"We think we are well within our rights of what the Congress said in its resolution," Johnson said.

"The remedy is there if we have acted unwisely or improperly," he added, noting the resolution specified it could be cancelled by a subsequent joint congressional resolution.

Johnson reviewed the series of consultations he had with congressional leaders both before and after the Tonkin Gulf incident in the summer of 1964, when U.S. destroyers were attacked by North Vietnamese torpedo boats in international waters.

HE SAID he had been particularly careful to consult Congress at every step because he remembered criticism by the late Sen. Robert Taft, R-Ohio, of former President Harry S. Truman's decision to intervene in Korea.

Taft said he thought Truman did right, but should have asked Congress first. Johnson's defense of his actions came after he was asked why he didn't call for a new vote of confidence in Congress.

At his first formal news conference in more than five months, the President appeared unranked by recent bursts of congressional criticism of his policies at home and abroad. He answered questions patiently and at great length for 35 minutes.

On other subjects, he said:

—He expected Congress to approve most of his programs intended to aid cities. He said he felt pending programs deserved top priority, but would consider other suggestions to help solve urban ills.

—The Administration was "doing all we can to assure orderly, free and fair elections" in South Vietnam.

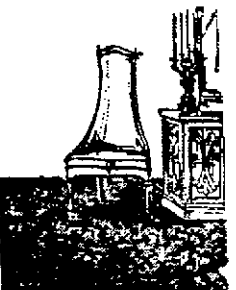

—His tax increase bill was one of three methods by which he hopes to meet the anticipated federal deficit; the others are budget cuts and reduced spending.

—He was concerned about the plight of the nation's farmers who faced an increasingly tight squeeze between lower prices for their products and higher prices for their labor and machinery. He said he favored giving farmers the right of collective bargaining to reach a fair price for what they produce.

De Gaulle Duped by Russian Agents

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — France's Charles de Gaulle has been a victim of a Soviet "disinformation" ring, which has penetrated his inner circle and planted misleading intelligence upon him. No doubt this has contributed to his obsessive anti-American attitude.

For years, the U.S. government has been aware of the Soviet operation inside De Gaulle's entourage. The late President Kennedy tried to warn him, but the imperious French leader refused to believe that any of his trusted advisers were misinforming him.

The amazing story has now been fictionalized by author Leon Uris, who had access to the facts. Although his new novel, "To-Paz," will be offered as fiction, it is close to the truth. It will include a letter, for example, which is similar to the one Kennedy wrote to De Gaulle.

"WE HAVE been informed," states Uris's version of the letter, "of the existence of a vast espionage network of French citizens employed as agents of the Soviet Union. . . . It appears they have been successful in deeply infiltrating all branches of government, particularly your secret service."

"Employing a unique method, termed 'disinformation,' they have been able to direct false information and confusing intelligence into your highest councils. It is further revealed to us by our same source that a member or members are among your personal entourage."

"I urge you to send a team of experts to the United States to study all the information we have gathered and to interrogate our prime source of discovery."

De Gaulle spurned the offer.

HE ISN'T the only world leader, incidentally, who has been taken in by Soviet "disinformation" rings. Other Western governments also have been infiltrated by Communist agents and informants who are less interested in collecting information than in circulating misinformation.

They have helped to create some elaborate misrepresentations, using false intelligence and forged documents.

Their favorite technique is to drop a tidbit here, a rumor there, a falsehood elsewhere, like pieces of a jigsaw puzzle. Then Western intelligence agencies painstakingly fit the puzzle together until it forms an identifiable pattern.

What they don't always realize is that they are as sembling precisely the distorted picture the Reds want them to see.

NOTE: My first experience with a "disinformation" ring occurred in Shanghai after World War II. I helped to expose the operations of a "disinformation" specialist named Nicholas Lebedeff, who planted falsehood fragments through a motley group of informants.

The girl friend of an American Army officer would pass on one fragment. An entrepreneur, who had been shut up in the Jewish ghetto by the Japanese during World War II, would divulge another. Still other bits and pieces would come from seemingly unrelated sources.

I remember one incident when U.S. Army G2 pieced fragments together and concluded that a Soviet ship was smuggling arms to the Communist underground. The Army passed on the "intelligence" to the Nationalist Chinese authorities, who raided the ship and found nothing more incriminating than a few empty vodka bottles. The incident caused Chiang Kai shek's government to lose considerable "face."

OUTSIDE THE office of Rep. Tom Foley, D-Wash., sits a new, 257-pound Robotype machine that cost the taxpayers $800. Unless Congress clears a way, the red tape, it will still be sitting there five years from now.

Foley purchased the machine out of his equipment allowance two months ago. No sooner had he installed it in his office than the House provided each congressman with a more efficient, more expensive Mach 10 Autotypist.

The new machine displaced the obsolete Robotype, which Foley tried to turn over to the General Services Administration for use elsewhere or for sale at a government auction.

He was dismayed to discover that the law required him to keep the machine, whether it can be used or not, for five years. He thought about shipping it to his home office in Spokane, Wash., where it might come in handy. But the law also prohibited shipment of the machine outside the halls of Congress.

So this is precisely where it remains — in a congressional hallway where Foley is tempted to mount a sign above it declaring: "Rust in peace!"

California Grows to 19.53 Million; L.A. Keeps Lead

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's population grew to an estimated 19,535,000 in 1967, the State Finance Department said Friday.

But the rate of newcomers entering the state has slowed down, the department said, and was about the same this year as in 1966.

1966 estimated population figure might have to be reduced slightly from the original 19,195,000.

THE DEPARTMENT'S mid-1967 provisional figures showed that California's 1967 population increased about 24.3 per cent from 1960.

The largest numerical increase was in Los Angeles County, gaining nearly one million new residents since 1960. Neighboring Orange County showed the biggest percentage jump in California urban areas—about 80 per cent since 1960 to an estimated 1.3 million in 1967.

'Summer' Hip Set Not Hip

New York Times Service

SAN FRANCISCO — The influx of thousands of summer, or part-time, hippies to the Haight-Ashbury section here has caused a social crisis of sorts in this hippie capital of the world.

Oldtimers along Haight-Ashbury say the reason for the problem is that the people who come, instead of "doing their thing," expect "their thing to be done for them."

Some hippies — many of whom moved to here four years ago, just as the North Beach Jack Kerouac-Beatnik era was ending—have seen the Haight go from what they considered its previous "good charm" to its current "period of adjustment" or "challenge."

THE HAIGHT, as the hippies who have seen the change tell it, used to be full of good vibrations and a lot of people just doing their thing and pretty much leaving everybody else out of it.

But along with the individualism came an unexplainable feeling of community.

Why and how could hundreds of thousands of individuals in the truest sense of the word feel like a community? One hippie had this to say:

"Man, like we're the biggest scare the street world has ever seen. We're affecting the people through art, language, especially music, and by the mere fact that we have dropped out. When this many people decide a society is worthless, it's something to think about."

The same hippie explained the summer scene:

"Now, it's mostly kids you see on the Haight. They are under 18 and have placed themselves in a world which they don't understand. They are not old enough to have fully examined the society and have decided it's lousy."

THE PROPORTION of California's population in urban counties increased slightly since 1960, but remained about 90 per cent, the finance department's report said.

The percentage of Californians living in the eight southernmost counties also increased slightly—but stayed at about 56 per cent.

The report also showed a few blurs on the picture of a booming, urban state.

Two rural counties, Mendocino and Trinity, lost population slightly since 1960.

BUTTHE state's fastest growing county was Mono, gaining 12 per cent since 1960. However, the finance department said this increase may be exaggerated because of a low count in the 1960 census.

The department listed the following 1967 estimates for California's major urban counties, with percentage increases since 1960:

Los Angeles, 7,032,400, up 18.5 per cent; Orange, 1,268,900, up 80.3 per cent; Santa Clara, 966,800, up 50.5 per cent; San Diego, 1,283,200, up 24.2 per cent; San Bernardino, 667,700, up 32.6 per cent; Alameda, 1,065,600, up 17.3 per cent; Riverside, 444,000, up 43 per cent; Contra Costa, 545,100, up 33.3 per cent; Ventura, 330,800, up 66 per cent; Sacramento, 631,700, up 25.6 per cent, and San Mateo, 555,400, up 25 per cent.

NEW ESTIMATES for some of California's other counties are:

Alpine, the state's least populous county, 400, up less than 1 per cent with a growth of three since 1960; Fresno, 420,700, up 15 per cent; Humboldt, 105,900, up 1 per cent; Del Norte, 18,000, up 1.3 per cent; Marin, 201,200, up 37 per cent; Monterey, 246,100, up 24 per cent; San Joaquin, 284,400, up 13.8 per cent; Santa Cruz, 112,700, up 33.8 per cent; Shasta, 18,932, up 31.8 per cent; Sonoma, 187,500, up 27.2 per cent.

Drawer Ransacked

A prowler stole a money drawer containing $320 in cash and checks from Jim Gray Imports, 3513 Atlantic Ave., Long Beach police said Friday.

5 CREMATION DEATHS

Slamming Door Brought Murder

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — The bodies of a Minnesota farmwife and her four children were found Friday in the ashes of their farm home.

The husband and father, found wounded and bound to a clothesline in the farmyard, a towel tied around his face, told authorities it was the work of four or five midnight intruders.

The man, David Hoskins, 30, was hospitalized in St. Cloud with a small caliber bullet wound in his right shoulder, another in his side. A 22-caliber rifle was found in the farmhouse ruins. No weapon was near the point Hoskins was found tied by passing teenagers, who saw the blaze from a highway.

HOSKINS told Stearns County Sheriff Peter Lahr the family had been watching late television, heard a door slam in the farmyard about 1 a.m. Friday.

Hoskins said he went outside, was grabbed by four or five young men who wrapped a towel around his face, shot him, and bound him. Hoskins told the sheriff the men then set fire to the premises.

The body of Mrs. Hoskins, 29, was so badly burned authorities could not immediately determine if she had been shot.

The same was true of the bodies of Julie 7, Darla, 4; Linda, 1½, and David, 6 weeks.

Doctor reported Hoskins in serious condition, but authorities said they expected him to recover.

Man, Woman Die Human Torches

A mental patient doused his body with gasoline and burned himself to death as a Vietnam war protest at Panorama City Friday, a day after injuries from a similar act on Monday claimed the wife of a housewife in Bell.

John D. Copping, a psychiatric patient at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Sepulveda, disappeared from the hospital about 8 a.m. and was seen walking into a field in adjacent Panorama City with a can of gasoline. The incident touched off a half-acre brush fire.

A note found under a rock five feet from Copping's charred body said, "I have carried out my act of immolation as a protest against Johnson's war in Vietnam. The war is, like my final act, a war of frustration."

Mrs. Noelia Fernandez, 36, a Cuban refugee mother of six children, died in County General hospital Thursday from burns received Monday when she set herself afire in her home at Bell. Her son Ruben, 10, put out the flames with a pail of water. Her husband is in Cuba and is unable to leave because he is eligible for the Cuban draft.

Crime Case Information Ban Denied

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The State Court of Appeal Friday overturned a lower court injunction which would have drastically limited criminal case information to news media.

Appellate court justices ruled that Superior Court Judge Alfred Gitelson did not have the authority to issue an order curtailing statements by police and prosecutors when a person is arrested.

The American Civil Liberties Union had won the injunction against city and county law enforcement officers, sparking months of legal maneuvering.

Maestro Solomon, Pianist Browning Give Excellent Concert in the Bowl

By DANIEL CARIAGA
Music Critic

Who would have thought, at the start of this summer season, that two of the most satisfying concerts in Hollywood Bowl would be led by that vastly underrated, American-born conductor now in his 12th year at the helm of the Indianapolis Symphony, Izler Solomon?

At that time, seven weeks ago, Solomon was not even scheduled to return to the Bowl (where he first appeared in 1946) this season. The projected podium personalities were Jochem, Steinberg, Iwaki, Foster, Kubelik, Haitink, Copland, Katims and Mehta.

When both Steinberg and Haitink had to cancel their appearances, five of this year's 18 Symphonies Under the Stars concerts were affected. Luckily for us, Solomon got two of them.

Thursday he offered the second, leading the Los Angeles Philharmonic in Beethoven's Overture to "Le Corsaire" and Tchaikovsky's Fourth Symphony, and collaborating with pianist John Browning in an exceptional performance of Prokofiev's Third Concerto.

I admit, first off, that his reading of the grandiose Fourth Symphony, for all its many admirable characteristics, did not achieve an excited level of excitement.

Yet, here, as in the rest of Thursday's program, a thoroughly musical atmosphere dominated. What Solomon may lack in charisma, he makes up in professionalism.

As two nights before, he coaxed from the Philharmonic cleaner, more clarified and even softer playing than one usually hears, even on Mehta's good nights.

All that was missing in the Symphony was that extra spurt of vitality to raise tempo and temperatures to a Tchaikovsky level. Still, there were many virtues here, including some fine horn playing, a delightful second movement and subtle dynamic gradations seldom observed on this stage.

The "Corsaire" Overture, an inspired piece of programming before the Concerto, was given a polished reading by the attentive orchestra. Such clean running passages and tonal unanimity from the violins who shone; the entire ensemble rose brilliantly to the occasion.

If recent performances of the Concerto by Jorge Bolet and Byron Janis were not so fresh in these ears, John Browning's playing of it Thursday might have made us ecstatic.

As it was, his serious and fluent performance certainly left no room for fault-finding.

A temperamental affinity for the work, a virile but unpercussive command of its intricacies and an architectural overview of its horizons gave his reading particular strength and solidi-

"WE'RE TRYING TO KEEP UP MORALE, SAM, WHILE THE BOSS IS AWAY ON VACATION!"

ty. The work's popularity, especially among pianists, remains a mystery to me, but as long as they continue to play it this well, I shan't complain.

BOOK REVIEWS

Flaws in Jungian Concepts

REVIEWED BY BERNARD TEITEL, M.D.
STUDIES IN ANALYTICAL PSYCHOLOGY. By Gerhard Adler. Putnam.

In the evolution and development of theory and therapy in psychoanalysis the question of Freud or Jung was resolved very early in the course of psychoanalytic development. The decision in favor of Freud on the part of clinicians and academic psychologists has been overwhelming and reiterated throughout the 20th century.

A perusal of Dr. Adler's book, which is a collection of lectures describing Jungian concepts and Jungian techniques, explains why the issue was quickly decided in favor of Freud. Dr. Adler's book brings out Jung's stature as a psychologist dealing with the conscious while contributing nothing to an understanding of unconscious forces.

THIS BOOK through its explanation of Jungian systems, illustrates the mutual incompatibility with basic Freudian concepts. Jungian principles as described by Dr. Adler would have psychology revert to its original status as handmaiden to logic and metaphysics. Dr. Adler weaves into Jungian doctrine the supernatural and transcendental considerations which so appealed to Jung.

Dr. Adler, as did Jung, would have psychological understanding remain on the basis that the conscious or at the most the preconscious mind comprises for all practical purposes the totality of mental activity. Jung would negate Freud's discovery of the dynamic unconscious.

Jung would give up the possibility of understanding the part played by psychic conflict in the development of human characteristics for a shallow preconscious system described as the Personal Unconscious.

HAVING eliminated the dynamic unconscious and being unable to discover in his Personal Unconscious forces and mechanisms that would account for man's psychic activities, Jung looks for the mainspring of mind in a purely empirical factor, the Collective Unconscious. By so doing, he closes the door against any possibility of discovering the unconscious ego and at the same time abolishes the concept of individual unconscious conflict. This negativistic approach to the facts of mental development is further reinforced by the Jungian concept of mental energy, which does away with the necessity of investigating infantile life and at the same time reduces conflict to the level of a conscious problem.

THE PETRIFYING influence of these Jungian concepts is nowhere more obvious than in his theories of mental disorder. Having eliminated the unconscious ego, Jung leaves us to assume that neuroses are the result of psychic automatisms. That he attributes the neuroses to a failure to perform a life task is at best a token to beguile the patient's conscious ego.

The idea that there is no harm in men being mistaken or at least only causing a little harm because their intentions are well motivated is no reason to defend a school of clinical psychology that has such glaring weaknesses and so few virtues.

'Carnival' Just That

By RALPH HINMAN JR.
Drama Critic

By any standards, Anaheim summer musical repertory's production of "Carnival" is a carnival.

A nearly flawless cast races breathlessly through the antics of two shows-within-a-show and several fine voices are on display. It's all very professional at Katella High School's outdoor theater.

Clowns, jugglers, acrobats and other big-top types all but stage a complete carnival. They later reprise it, coming back to do the dreamlike "Cirque de Paris" ballet, one of the evening's high points.

IN A PUPPET show, Carrot Top, Marguerite, Henry Walrus and Reynaldo the Fox become integral parts of the central plot.

That thin plot—isn't it always in a musical?—is a showcase for the vocal talents of ingenue Karen Stein as Lili and Thor Nielsen, embittered, crippled ex-dancer now a puppet-master.

Miss Stein does with beauty and clarity the show's topper, "Love Makes the World Go Around"—but there's no "Hi Lili Hi Lo," as in the movie version.

NIELSEN, whose capabilities extend from tenor to baritone, firmly stayed in a disciplined, melodic lower range. His "I've Got

Not quite in the highest category was the still-satisfying voice of Robert Vaughn, "Marco the Magnificent," magician and great lover. A real comedienne was his circus partner, "The Incomparable Rosalie," Carol Faulstick.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF

5 Killed in Head-on Crash

Five persons, including a Norwalk couple and their 15-year-old son, died Friday in a fiery head-on collision near Blythe in Riverside County, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Dead at the scene, a two-lane bridge on Interstate 10 west of the city, were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Earl Adams, of 14327 Cabrillo Ave., and their son, Steve.

A daughter, Judy, 20, who patrolmen said was driving the family car which crashed into a pickup truck was reported in fair condition in a Palm Springs hospital.

Occupants of the truck, both of whom were also killed instantly, were identified as Mr. and Mrs. George K. Mustin of San Francisco.

vic victim was to have been married today.

Rosary will be recited in American Martyrs Catholic Church, Manhattan Beach, Sunday at 8 p.m. Requiem Mass is scheduled for 9 a.m. Monday.

Miss Dietz, whose survivors include her twin sister Kathy, was killed Thursday as she rode in a car driven by a brother, James, 19, after ordering her wedding flowers from a Manhattan Beach florist's shop.

Her fiancée, Navy Lt. (jg) John D. Thomas is stationed aboard the aircraft carrier Yorktown in Long Beach.

In addition to Kathy and James, she is survived by her father, Merle Dietz, a professor at Harbor Junior College; her mother, six other sisters and two other brothers.

schools were certified Friday by the Civil Service Commission.

Placing first, second and third, respectively, in the competition for the school job were:

Richard M. Clowes, 50, superintendent of schools for the Burbank Unified School District and former chief of the division of instruction for the state Department of Education.

David H. Paynter, 46, superintendent of schools of the Simi Unified School District, who took a leave in 1965 to become a director of the federal Job Corps program.

Cecil D. Hardesty, 59, San Diego County superintendent of schools.

Dr. Bertram A. Betts, a career official in the superintendent's office, has been serving as acting superintendent since retirement of Dr. C. C. Trillingham earlier this year.

County supervisors will make final selection from the three finalists. The job has been paying $28,000 a year, to be increased to $30,500 under recently passed state legislation.

Beauty Competition

Miss Hawaiian Gardens for 1967-68 will be selected tonight at 7:30 in Artesia High School's auditorium.

Also on the agenda is selection of a Miss Sweet Teen from among nearly a score of 15-to-17-year-olds.

MRS. MAE P. MACK accepts NAACP life membership plaque from Edward B. Muse, Life Membership Assistant of the organization at a dinner Friday in the Grant Chapel Church. Mrs. Barbara Campbell (at right of Mrs. Mack) represented Theta Alpha Omega, the other organization which paid for a lifetime membership. At left is Fillmore Freeman, president of the Long Beach chapter of the NAACP.

Conspirator Group Theory of Race Riot Cause Rapped

Americans who lay the blame for racial rioting at the feet of a few conspirators or agitators are laboring under a tragic delusion, an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said Friday in Long Beach.

Far from being the work of a handful of persons, said Edward B. Muse, riots are the inevitable products of chronic deprivation and racial segregation. "They're built into the very fabric of a Jim Crow society," he declared.

Muse, national coordinator of life memberships for the association, spoke at a pot luck dinner in the Grant Chapel Church sponsored by the local chapter of the NAACP. The veteran civil rights worker appeared with Mrs. Medgar Evers, widow of the NAACP official who was murdered in Mississippi several years ago.

At the meeting, Muse presented plaques to two organizations which had paid for life memberships in the organization. The memberships cost $500 each and provide the NAACP with about a third of its $2 million annual operating budget.

The honored organizations were the Theta Alpha Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority and the Ladies Optimistic Guild.

Resthome OK'd by L.B. Planners

Construction of a convalescent hospital and resthome at 3999 E. Pacific Coast Highway, on the north side of the highway at Termino Avenue, was approved this week by the Planning Commission.

Werner Ruchti, city planning director, said that objections raised at the prior hearing have been met by moving the ambulance service area and the laundry-truck area so access is through the parking lot.

In response to objections that the trash collection would be from a corner of the building directly off Termino Avenue, E. Enwood Thompson, representing the owners, said the collection area will be hidden by an ornamental fence.

Commissioners granted the application of the owners, Thompson Westcoast Co. and Park Central Investment Corp., for an exception to the R-4 multiple-residential zoning to permit the hospital.

Work Truck Plunges Into River, 18 Die

SAN CLODIO, Spain (UPI) — A truck carrying construction workers plunged off a twisting mountain road into the River Sil near here Friday.

Police reports said 18 bodies were dragged out of the river and another five workers were taken to the hospital. It was not known how many more were aboard the truck.

Burst Water Main Breaks Highway

Thousands of gallons of water poured through a ruptured main in Santa Fe Springs Friday causing a cave-in on heavily traveled Imperial Highway which resulted in a huge traffic tie-up, according to Norwalk Sheriff's deputies.

The 8 p.m. incident forced deputies to close off Imperial between Bloomfield and Carmentia avenues and reroute traffic.

A spokesman for the Park Water Co., Compton, said an emergency crew sent to the scene, could not immediately determine the cause of the break in the 18 inch line which services about 100 homes in the Santa Fe Springs area.

Deputies said three to four feet of water had settled around commercial buildings along Imperial Highway.

County road department crawmen said that one of the eastbound lanes of Imperial would be closed for several days.

Swim Fest Today for Handicapped

Professional swimming and diving stars, headed by former National AAU diving champion Johnny Riley, will highlight the Cerritos Communities Pool for the Handicapped annual Swim Capade today at 1 p.m. in the Lafayette Hotel pool.

Also featured will be Tony Acicerno and Doug Roesse, Vick Draves, former Olympic diving champion and her sons, Jeffery, 15 and David, 13.

Carl Eddington, who has appeared on many television shows as an escape artist, will free himself from 100 feet of rope at the bottom of the pool in three minutes.

Los Angeles County Supervisor Burton W. Chace will present trophies provided by the Long Beach Civitan Club.

No Clues Yet to Slaying of 2 Sisters

Sheriff's detectives have questioned more than 200 persons in the sex slaying nine days ago of two little Altadena sisters, but have failed to come up with a clue to their slayer.

This was reported Friday by Lt. James (Norm) Hamilton of the homicide detail. He said a number of those questioned in the murders of Roberta Ann Barili, 6, and Cecelia Renee, 7, whose mutilated bodies were found in a weed-grown lot in Watts — more than 20 miles from their foothill home — were known sex offenders.

"But there are thousands of them, and we can't talk to them all," he admitted. "Of those interviewed, we cannot (link) any to the crime."

Time of the killings has been placed tentatively at about 10 p.m. Aug. 9. The girls left home to play about 2 p.m. that day, and it is believed they were picked up by their killer or killers early that afternoon.

Order to Help Stranded Air Passengers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) has made permanent — and toughened — its temporary order requiring payments to ticket-holding passengers "bumped" from overbooked flights.

The temporary order, issued last January, imposed payments from $5 to $40 to stranded passengers. But the permanent order Thursday increased the rates from $25 to $200. It goes into effect Oct. 17.

The permanent order also extended the rule to bookings on overseas as well as domestic flights.

FLAMES ENGULF AUTO

Three Cheat a Fiery Death

Two youths and a teenage girl cheated death by seconds Friday when they leaped from their blazing auto as it was engulfed in flames on a Long Beach street.

The driver suffered minor burns when he hesitated in leaving his burning car as other motorists shouted at him to run.

Traffic backed up for blocks on Atlantic Avenue across the street from Memorial Hospital while firemen doused the gasoline-fed fire which destroyed the late-model auto.

The driver, Neil Swearingen, 25, of 630 S. Knott Ave., Anaheim, was taken to the hospital emergency ward by an off-duty intern where he was treated for minor burns on his face and elbows.

Police said Swearingen's passengers, Terrell Tucker,

22, of 322 W. Ninth St., Long Beach, and Diane Perry, 19, of the Knott Avenue address, were not injured.

They told police they saw smoke pouring from their auto — borrowed from a friend — but couldn't pull over sooner because of heavy traffic.

A witness, Mrs. Jonathan Cooksey, 20, of 5332 Lewis Ave., said she shouted a warning to victims as her husband pulled his car abreast of the burning car, "but they just looked puzzled."

Mrs. Cooksey said she first spotted the Swearingen auto as it turned south on Atlantic from Spring Street.

"Fire was dripping from under the car," Mrs. Cooksey said.

When my husband caught up with them — about a block south of Spring — I yelled, "Get out!" but they just looked at me."

"When they finally turned around and looked, the fire had engulfed the whole trunk," Mrs. Cooksey said. "They looked pretty horrified when they saw it."

She said Swearingen pulled over, all three leaped from the car and stood watching it.

"The minute they got out, the fire burned through the back seat and burst into the whole car," she said. "If they'd been in there a few seconds longer, they might never have gotten out."

MRS. COOKSEY SAID her husband parked further down the hill from the blazing car — the Cooksey's 10-month-old daughter, Margaret, was in the car, and they feared the Swearingen auto might explode — then yelled at the three to run from the burning car.

"My husband finally had to almost pull them away," she said.

The Cookseys drove to Memorial Hospital to summon aid and the off-duty intern — who didn't leave his name with police — took Swearingen to the hospital.

AS FIRE RIGS rolled to the scene, streams of burning gas ran downhill from the auto, but police said nearby oil wells were not menaced, although the flames scorched grass.

Police theorized the gas tank didn't explode because of the slow gas leak.

Officer Thomas A. Hibbison said Swearingen told him he had just had the gas tank filled.

"The car had modified, shortened exhaust pipes," Hibbison said, "and it looks like the pipes overheated fuel lines and caught fire."

"It really blazed up just about the time they got out," he said.

Hibbison said the burned auto was owned by Mike Rietkerk of the Knott Avenue address.

Judge Cuts Bureaucracy, Orders Deaf Girl to Class

Deciding that 8-year-old Nancy Lou Howard of Placentia "has been kicked around enough by school bureaucrats," Santa Ana Superior Court Judge William C. Spiers ordered Friday that they enroll her in special classes for the deaf.

The court got a medical report from an otologist-surgical team that the girl is "severely deaf, with a profound language delay" because she has had no schooling.

Louis Howard, father of the child, had appealed to the court for a writ of mandate to compel Placentia school officials to enroll Nancy in special classes since Placentia does not teach deaf children. There are such classes in Orange and Santa Ana, however.

He said his application was followed by a series of delays, demands for medical tests, frustrations and then evasion.

Judge Spiers noted that the child's tests indicate "she is motivated to learn," and he said her case "was handled abominably" by Placentia School District Superintendent Clifford Riddleberger and his aides.

He ordered the child placed in special classes "as soon as possible. The child's interest is paramount. She has been kicked around enough," he said.

"Good Lord," Judge Spiers signed. "Nancy's going to have enough trouble without being kicked around by school bureaucracy."

Union Seeks Recognition as Agent for County Unit

The Retail Clerk's Union, Local 770 of Orange County, served notice Friday that it will seek recognition as bargaining agent for 17 employees of the radiology department of the Orange County Medical Center.

It is the first union to claim representation rights for public employees of the county.

Of the radiology department's 30 employees — including some part-timers — the 17 who signed with the Retail Clerks Union represent a sufficient majority according to Joseph T. DeSilva, the local's secretary-treasurer.

DeSilva said he will ask the county Board of Supervisors for a hearing to argue the claim for representation; he may file the request Tuesday.

COUNTY PERSONNEL officer William C. Hart said he will challenge DeSilva's demand because it was "not properly completed," he did not attach all the information the county said it needs to consider his application, Hart said.

The county officer said he has conferred several times with DeSilva and told him the county's requirements, and said some of them were "brushed aside."

He said he notified DeSilva that additional information will be needed to meet county regulations before the supervisors can set a hearing.

Hart said that all the radiology department technicians and ancillary workers belong to the Orange County Employees' Association, and will have to relinquish membership in that organization if the union becomes their bargaining agent.

He expressed surprise at their move into the union. He said that the X-ray technicians have gained a 13.75 per cent increase in pay in three hikes within a year, the last being 5.5 per cent like effective last June 30.

Their demands were for 25 per cent increase, Hart disclosed.

Assign Legal Aid in Police 'Assault'

Two Long Beach youths, charged with hurling bricks at passing police cars during a central district disturbance July 27, Friday were assigned legal representation by the Los Angeles County Public Defender's Office.

L.B.'s Quake Repair Bill Made Law

From Our State Bureau

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Ronald Reagan Friday signed into law Long Beach's earthquake classroom-repair bill.

The $3 million measure, authored by Sen. Joseph M. Kennick, D-Long Beach, was introduced at the request of Long Beach Unified School District.

The law allows the district to convert a present 10-cent fire-safety tax override into a fund for replacing 200 district classrooms which fail to meet earthquake structural standards.

Dr. Francis Laufenberg, district assistant superintendent, has estimated the override will yield $1 million a year for the next three years.

Superior Court Judge Donald E. Dunbar continued the arraignment of McWayne Evans, 18, of 2016 Adriatic Ave., and Earnest Edward Mayfield, 21, of Los Angeles, until Monday, following the appointment of the defender.

Burt Barnett, attorney for the public defender's office, said he will bring his two clients back to court Monday. He added that he probably will "plead them both not guilty" at that time.

THE PAIR IS charged with throwing bricks at police vehicles during a disturbance involving 75 to 100 Negroes at the intersection of Pacific Coast Highway and California Avenue on the night of July 27 and the morning of July 28.

At the preliminary hearing of the two men, Long Beach Police Lt. John Coleman testified that he saw Evans hurl a half a brick at a police car in which the officer was riding. The brick hit the top of the car, about six inches above Coleman's head, the officer testified.

San Diego Next for L.B. Band

Long Beach's prize-winning Junior Concert Band, fresh from winning the Santa Barbara Fiesta Days Band Festival championship for the fourth time in five years, moves on to San Diego this weekend for another resounding performance.

Directed by Marvin Marker, the band is scheduled to make the rafterless new San Diego Stadium ring Sunday as a halftime feature of the Charger-Detroit Lions football game.

Runnerup to the high-scoring Long Beach Band, which also grabbed the Sweepstakes title at Santa Barbara, was the Lakewood Pan-American Youth Band.

CANOERS KEEPING THEIR COOL

Deny Protesters 'Rights' Vets Ask

A change in federal laws to prevent "those who engage in provocative behavior which interferes with life, liberty and rights of others from using constitutional immunity as protection" was approved Friday by the Military Order of the Purple Heart.

The 35th annual national convention of the order closed at the Lafayette Hotel and officials reported its Long Beach meeting a "big success."

Aimed at individuals "who, under the guise of freedom have incited and instigated rioting," the convention resolution said legislation was a "must" if additional deaths, property damage and lowering of morale in Vietnam are to be avoided.

Another resolution commended the mayors of Detroit, Mich., Newark, N.J., Cleveland, Ohio, and Milwaukee, Wis., for "their prompt action in carrying out their duties to the law-abiding citizens in their communities during riots and riot conditions in the past several months."

New MOPH officers elected to assist National Commander Luther Skaggs Jr. include: Ernest Slaughter, senior vice commander, of Harrisburg, Pa.; Frank J. Czechowski, finance, Milwaukee; John Goodin, Johnson City, Tenn., judge advocate; and Victor Kubly, Daytona Beach, Fla., adjutant general.

For the Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Ray Noble of Cincinnati, Mrs. Madeline Friendly of Detroit, Mich., is senior vice president; Mrs. Eva Gottfried, Milwaukee, treasurer; Mrs. Beatrice Donovan, Baltimore, Md., secretary; and Mrs. LaVonne Clark, Lakewood, chaplain.

Council Rejects Oil Firms' Tax Bid

As they have for the past four tax years, city councilmen denied Friday petitions for reductions of assessments filed by 11 oil firms who contend they should not be taxed on their royalty interests.

The total 1967-68 assessed value of the property concerned, almost all of it in the harbor area, is $164,412,400.

The oil companies asked that the assessment be reduced to $26,758,540, a cut of $137.6 million.

Since 1963-64, the oil companies have been paying under protest the taxes based on the disputed portion of their assessments. They filed legal action and the matter is being appealed.

The city has impounded more than $3.7 million in such protested taxes, pending final outcome of the court action.

The largest single assessment petition was filed by Thums Long Beach Co., which asked that the city's assessment of $116,566,100 on two parcels be reduced to $18,579,020.

Long Beach Oil Development Co. asked that its total assessment on five parcels be reduced from $26,438,070 to $1,723,190, while the Atlantic Richfield Co. asked that its $14,831,000 assessment on seven parcels be cut to $1,764,100.

In their capacity as a Board of Equalization, councilmen denied all of the petitions.

Paul Ottoson, attorney for Signal Oil & Gas Co., was the principal spokesman for the oil firms. With the exception of LBOD and Thums, the other eight firms merely joined Ottoson's presentation.

Ottoson said the oil firms contend that an oil or gas royalty paid to a government entity by an oil producer is tax exempt. He said it is their position that the government entity involved "retains the fee interest, and also resolved a portion of the mineral interest by way of a royalty."

Bennett Priest of LBOD and Edward S. Renvick of Thums submitted supplemental statements, primarily pointing out that they operate under a drilling and operating contract, not a lease.

Both argued that their firms have no rights in the land, improvements or oil and gas and should be taxed only on the percentage of net profits they receive for their services.

City Assessor J. Richard Cole said the method of assessment used "is one which our attorneys advise us is proper, and is in accordance with the decisions of the State Supreme Court."

Court rulings have held that rent paid for a lease of government land is not a proper deduction, as it basically is part of the price the purchaser agreed to pay for the property, Cole said.

Assemblies of God Will Convene in L.B. Thursday

The Assemblies of God will open their 32nd biennial General Council business convention in Long Beach next Thursday. Officials of the world's largest Pentecostal denomination expect a peak attendance of 10,000 persons from 8,506 churches at the six-day gathering. Keynote speaker at opening night ceremonies at 7:15 in the Arena will be the church's presiding officer, Rev. Thomas F. Zimmerman, general superintendent. A leader in the church's evangelistic outreach, Rev. Zimmerman was planning chairman for the triennial Pentecostal World Conference in Rio de Janeiro last month.

ELECTION of national officers will begin on Friday, and will include selection by two-thirds vote of five assistant general superintendents, general secretary and treasurer. All of them will maintain offices at the denomination's international headquarters in Springfield, Mo. This will be the first General Council convention at which a general superintendent is not elected. The 1965 General Council, held in Des Moines, voted to extend the term to four years. The post, held by Rev. Zimmerman since 1960, will be voted on at the next convention in Dallas in 1969.

Also to be elected at this year's convention are executive presbyters from eight geographic regions of the United States. Regional executive presbyter for this area is Rev. Dwight H. McLaughlin of Ventura. The resident executive officers and the regional presbyters make up the 16-member executive presbytery, which carries out the decisions of the General

REV. ZIMMERMAN Keynote Speaker

Council convention and of the General Presbytery, a 175-member national advisory board.

DAILY convention sessions will open at 8 a.m. with a prayer meeting.

A special feature of the convention will be a public "Good News Crusade" missionary rally on Sunday, Aug. 27, at 2 p.m. Some 150 foreign missionaries will be colorfully attired in national costumes of the countries where they serve. The program includes a $100,000 fund-raising drive among the delegates and their churches to finance evangelistic campaigns in 200 cities throughout the world. Guest speaker will be Rev. D. Mark Buntain of La Crescenta, an appointed missionary to India.

Other Convention features will include a 7 p.m. Friday production of "Revivaltime," the denomination's international broadcast service. The program will be taped for its regular scheduled radio network release.

Bible quiz and music talent contests are on tap Thursday through Saturday. The convention's morning devotional services, evening evangelistic meetings and a 9:45 a.m. Sunday communion-memorial service are all open to the public.

In pre-convention activities, Rev. Thomas F. Zimmerman, general superintendent of the Assemblies of God, will be guest speaker at Glad Tidings Assembly of God, 1900 South St., at 7 p.m. Sunday, announced Rev. Allan G. Snider, pastor.

And Rev. Ralph M. Biggs, general superintendent emeritus and assistant professor at Bethany Bible College in Santa Cruz, will speak at 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m. services Sunday at Bethany Chapel, 13414 Paramount Blvd., South Gate. Rev. Grant A. Wacker is pastor.

'Parish of Air' Tries High-Budget Film

New Religious Series to Get Prime Time on TV

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Religious leaders for years have nourished the hope that television might make it possible to communicate the message of faith to millions of people who never set foot in a church or synagogue.

The hope has not been fulfilled. Television plays only a minor role in religious communication.

There seem to be two reasons why this is true:

First, religious programs (usually carried free as a "public service") are relegated by most TV stations to off-hours, such as early Sunday morning. It would be next to impossible for even a first-rate program to build a sizable audience at such a time.

But—and this is the second reason—religious programs are rarely first-rate. Most of them are produced on shoestring budgets, and are dull. Some are so heavy-footed in their preachments they make even TV commercials sound subtle.

NEXT MONTH, television stations throughout the country will begin showing in prime viewing time a new series of religious programs sponsored by the Episcopal Church's "Parish of the Air" which has its headquarters in Atlanta, Ga.

The series, produced on film by a professional studio, stars Hollywood actor Ralph Bellamy as host. It takes a documentary approach to such subjects as sex, marriage, family life, job pressures, the problems of growing old, and the youth rebellion. Although it deals with serious matters in an adult way, it is meant to have enough entertainment value to compete with regular TV offerings.

The films, for showing on a monthly schedule, will be syndicated only to stations which are willing to show them during prime time, when audiences are largest. Caroline Rakestraw, executive director of the Parish of the Air, told UPI that response from stations "has so far been good."

THE FIRST 12 films in the series were produced at a cost of $500,000—a huge sum compared to the outlay for most religious programs. Mrs. Rakestraw said the money was "painfully raised" over a period of five years, in the form of individual contributions from some 4,000 Episcopalians who are subscribers to the Parish of the Air.

CONFIDENT LIVING

Put Your Strong Points to Work

By Norman Vincent Peale

"Know your weakness" is often advanced as a rule of success. It is sound advice. But it is even more important to know your strengths.

A businessman told of a man in his employ whose personality weaknesses were "messing up the whole production department." Tactful suggestions brought no improvement, nor did plain-spoken criticism of poor results. He seemed to have no consciousness whatsoever of his shortcomings.

The employer was tempted more than once to let the fellow go. But instead he kept trying to think of ways to help him and at the same time benefit the business. Would it do, he thought, to call him in and say, "Now, Frank, I'm going to give it to you straight . . ." and bluntly tell him of his many weaknesses? No, that might antagonize the man completely or, worse yet, demoralize him.

After much thinking the employer got an idea. He drew up a questionnaire, listing typical weaknesses and strengths of personality that limit or enhance effectiveness on the job. He passed this questionnaire to everyone in the organization requesting each to check weaknesses and strengths and return the signed questionnaire in a sealed envelop. He promised to keep the information confidential—the sole purpose being to help each person by self-evaluation.

THE LAST MAN to return his questionnaire was Frank. He delivered it personally, laid it on the boss's desk and said, "I have analyzed myself with the help of this questionnaire. Checked off my strengths and weaknesses like you asked. Never realized I have so many weaknesses. Frankly, if I headed this company I would fire a man with that many weaknesses. Maybe you just better let me go. I wouldn't blame you."

The employer took a blank piece of paper and placed it over the weaknesses checked on the questionnaire. "What's that you're saying, Frank? I'm not looking at your weaknesses right now. What I'm looking at are your strengths. Did you realize you have this many strengths? I knew you had some of them in you. And there are others here I didn't know you have. You have a lot of potentiality, Frank. Let's both of us think this over for a few days, and then let's consider which of your strengths we should especially develop in this company."

WHEN THEY MET again the boss announced, "Frank, it comes to me that we should take you out of the production department. I'm going to put you in sales."

"Why, that's the last thing I think I'd be good at!" exclaimed Frank.

"That's because you've been moping along in your weaknesses instead of living on your strengths. I see in you a terrific salesman."

The astonished man shrank from the idea. He was very dubious. But finally he agreed to try it.

Today he is one of the company's most successful salesmen. "He is now a great producer," says his boss, "because he is living and working not on his weaknesses but on his strengths."

How about you and me? Are we living on our strengths? I wonder.

To be a truly successful person one must be conscious of one's main strengths, and activate, develop and use them. This takes effort. But you must rise to the challenge; that

Prelate Assails Svetlana

NEW YORK (AP)—A Russian church leader has assailed the religious affirmations of Joseph Stalin's daughter, Svetlana Alliluyeva, saying she is like Judas who claimed loyalty to the Lord but betrayed him.

The denunciation by a Russian Orthodox official of the faith and conduct of Mrs. Alliluyeva, who quit her homeland for America, was detailed here this week by church experts on Soviet affairs.

They deplored the attack. Its text was disclosed in a documentary journal, Religion in Communist Dominated Areas, published by the International Affairs Department of the National Council of Churches. The attack was reported in the Soviet paper, Izvestia.

In it, a Moscow prelate, Metropolitan Pimen, says Mrs. Alliluyeva "has abandoned her children," has "become a traitor to her people and exposed her father's nakedness" and now "attempts to speak about religion, about her belief in God."

"The moral image of this woman, who has sold everything sacred for dollars, can only arouse revulsion and anger. Svetlana Alliluyeva's statements show that they are full of deceit . . ."

is, if you want to get anywhere. Beware of going off on a tangent, of trying to copy someone else, or trying to broaden your base too much. Avoid these failure patterns. Stick to your main strengths.

THE FACTORS that brought the big change in Frank's career will work for others too. The process involved three phases: analysis, belief and action. Analyze yourself. Be clear about your weaknesses, but also more aware of your strong points. "Know thyself," said the ancient Greeks.

Rev. George S. Johnson . . . Takes Pastorate

Christ Lutheran to Install Pastor

Rev. George S. Johnson will be installed as pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, 6500 Stearns St., at 7 p.m. Sunday in ceremonies conducted by Dr. Gayler Falde, president of the South Pacific District of the American Lutheran Church.

Ministers of two neighboring churches of other denominations will participate in the ceremonies, reading scripture and giving the closing prayer. They are Rev. John Gattis of Los Altos Methodist and Rev. Harold Penrose of Los Altos Brethren.

Other participating clergy include Dr. Gerhard Belgum of Lakewood's St. Timothy Lutheran, and Rev. Elder Oscarson of University Lutheran.

Bill Bornemann, president at Christ Lutheran, will give the greeting from the congregation.

Rev. Johnson is no newcomer to this area. He was ordained at St. Timothy, where he served two years as assistant to Rev. Alfred O. Storvik, who was St. Timothy's pastor until his retirement three years ago.

Rev. Johnson served as founding pastor of a mission church in Pacifica, and this year completed his studies for a master's degree in church history at Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul.

He and his wife, Vivian, a graduate of Lutheran Bible Institute, have three children.

FROM THE PULPIT

How easy is Christianity? How much of the Cross can we eliminate and still gain a crown? Ministers over the world are trying to make religion easy, palatable, and enjoyable. Coffee hours are replacing Bible study. Drive-in churches are springing up. In Florida they have a "boat-in" church.

Convenience is the key word. Messages are geared to the flesh. Philosophy, psychology and psychiatry are the structure of sermons. Recently I noted a sermon topic "How to be Good and Mad."

How different from the preaching of the New Testament. Entire discourses were given on the Road to Damascus. The Deity of Christ, the Second Coming of Christ, the Crucifixion of Christ. Jesus offered a Cross, not a cushion; an ultimatum, not a option; Christianity, not "some religion."

Nothing is right in your life until God is first. Take up your Cross and follow Him. Be a Christian, not a parasite. Build, don't destroy. If you do not have a good church home, I invite you to Calvary this Sunday.

Come to Calvary! Calvary is for you!

Pierce, World Vision Leader, Will Speak at L.B. Church

Dr. Bob Pierce, founder-president of World Vision, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at El Dorado Park Community Church, 3655 Norwalk Blvd.

It will be his only appearance in this area before leaving on a speaking tour in other sections of the country. Dr. Pierce returned from Vietnam last week.

World Vision, headquartered in Monrovia, Calif., conducts an international program of evangelism, missionary support and emergency aid in crisis areas.

The organization began to take form in the mind of Dr. Pierce 21 years ago when, as a young Baptist minister tramping through the interior of China, he became so deeply impressed by the needs of the people that he decided to "spend the rest of my life caring for people about whose sincerity I was certain, doing something I knew was good."

Since then World Vision has provided millions of dollars for schools, orphanages and hospitals in 18 nations.

In South Vietnam, the organization cares for 2,000 children, operates schools and refugee centers, provides medical supplies and provides more than $1 million worth of relief goods a year.

Earlier this month Dr. Pierce officiated at groundbreaking ceremonies in Saigon for a five-story Christian Embassy to be built by World Vision.

Harold S. Carlson, pastor. The program will also feature the Harmonaires of John Brown University in a repertoire of sacred music.

The Ambassador Quartet, a male vocal group from Pacific Lutheran at UNIVERSITY in Tacoma, will present a sacred concert at 8 p.m. Monday at St. Timothy Lutheran, Arbor Road and Woodruff Avenue in Lakewood. . . . Rev. Robert Leonard, former Catholic priest in New York, will address the dinner meeting of the Full Gospel Business Men of Orange County Tuesday evening at Topper's Steak House, 1727 S. Harbor Blvd., Anaheim.

An evening Vacation Bible School is scheduled next week, Monday through Friday from 7 to 9:15, at Lime Avenue Baptist, 850 Lime Ave., for persons from 3 years old through adults. The adult classes will be conducted by Rev. Glenn Clifton, pastor. . . . Members of the Blue Army of Our Lady of Fatima will attend a special service at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Precious Blood Church in Los Angeles. The program will include a lecture by Francis Schuckhardt, international secretary, who was at the shrine in Portugal during the visit of Pope Paul VI on the 50th anniversary of the visions at Fatima. . . . Rev. Teep Wicker, former rock 'n' roll singer now using his guitar in gospel singing, is conducting revival services with Rev. Don Abernathy, pastor, at the Apostolic Gospel Church, 8300 Eastern Ave., in Bell Gardens at 7:30 each evening.

BIHL

Laymen's Institute Planned

The Laymen's Bible Institute will open Sept. 18 at Long Beach's First Brethren Church, 3601 Linden Ave., it was announced this week. Classes will meet Mondays and Tuesdays at 7 p.m.

The new school will offer a range of 20 subjects, with "the main thrust being to teach God's place in our individual and national lives with a strong emphasis upon old-fashioned patriotism and law observance through better understanding of the Bible," according to Dr. William Orr of Temple City, president of the institute.

School sponsors include Dr. Charles Mayes, First Brethren pastor; Dr. J. Vernon McGee, pastor of the Church of the Open Door; Dr. J. Arthur Mouw, missionary; and lay leaders Dr. Hugh Murchison and Don Yeider.

REV. MCKENZIE

Missionary Takes Post in Lakewood

Rev. Earl D. McKenzie has assumed the pastorate at First Assembly of God, 6022 Candlewood St., Lakewood.

Rev. McKenzie has spent the past six years in Alaska, flying his own plane in missionary work with Eskimos as far north as Point Barrow.

A former resident of Orange County, he attended Fullerton High School, and served four years as a radar technician in the Air Force. He attended Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Waxahatchie, Tex., and served a pastorate in Texas for two years.

Students to Confer in Boston

A group of Southland college students will leave by chartered plane Tuesday for a three-day conference sponsored by the Christian Science Church at its Boston headquarters.

They will join 5,000 other students from around the world to discuss topics ranging from premarital chastity and the "identity crisis" to the problems of emerging nations and world peace.

The biennial conference, opening Thursday, has developed from a modest beginning 12 years ago into a major program involving students from 887 colleges and universities in 36 nations.

ONE IF the conference objectives will be to explore the relevance of Christian insight as a radical healing force in the whole range of human experience.

Among the subjects scheduled for consideration are: cheating, drugs, the "new morality," birth control, the "death of God" theology, spiritual values in the creative arts, resolving social conflicts, and leadership in government.

Special guest speaker professor of Old Testament at Boston University. The keynote address will be given by Erwin D. Canham, Editor in Chief of The Christian Science Monitor.

Central Area Ministers Call Session on Community Needs

The problems and needs of the central area of Long Beach will be discussed at a mass meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at St. John Baptist Church, 741 E. 10th St.

The meeting is sponsored by the newly formed Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance of the Long Beach Area, a 50-member organization comprised mostly of ministers working in the central area.

The Alliance president, Rev. Jesse L. Boyd of Grant Chapel, African Methodist Episcopal Church, said representatives will meet at 2:30 p.m. today at First Providence Baptist Church, 801 E. Hill St., to complete plans for an agenda and the steps to be taken at the Monday mass meeting.

Rev. Clyde F. Ladd, youth minister at First Providence and secretary of the Alliance, said that too often "in the area of race relations, we have heard the voice of all but the church. The churches must deal with the moral issues of the day, and can't relinquish that responsibility."

"We want to stay away from sensationalism, stick with the facts and then see how we can go about solving the problems."

Striking a similar note,

Rev. Boyd said that "for too long the Christian community has lived in a state of apathy and complacency which is totally isolated from the problems and from our Christian commitment. Too long the community has been swayed by voices other than those who represent an unselfish motive."

Church Approves Modern Version of Lord's Prayer

The United Church of Christ has approved a new modern English translation of the Lord's Prayer for use in worship services. It goes like this:

"Our father in heaven
Your name be honored.
Your kingdom come
And your will be done
On earth as it is in heaven.
Give us today the food we need;
And forgive us our sins
As we forgive those who have wronged us;
Keep us clear of temptation,
And save us from evil.
For the kingdom and power
And glory are yours forever.
Amen."

The End . . . Is It Near?

Minutes after the ascension of Christ to heaven . . . two men in white apparel appeared to those who witnessed the great event and prophesied His return. Throughout the New Testament the promise is repeatedly mentioned.

No one can tell just how near the return of Christ is. However, there are signs which we are told will mark the ending of the age. Many of these signs are more apparent today than ever before in history.

Among signs mentioned in the Bible is unbelief. 2 Peter 3:4 indicates people will say, "Where is the promise of His coming; for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were. . . . Perhaps disbelief in the return of Christ has never been as great as today. Self-satisfaction, prosperity, and peace always give a false air of sufficiency. Nevertheless, the fulfillment of Bible prophecy marches on. The establishment of Israel as a nation is given as a sign of the times. Troubles, wars, famines, and perilous times are also mentioned. But when Christ will return is not so important as being ready for the occasion.

If you are interested in Bible prophecy on the return of Christ, write for additional information.

Yanks Snap Twin Win String in Split

NEW YORK (AP) — Rich Reese's two-run, pinch-hit homer in the ninth inning gave Minnesota a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees and a split of a two-night doubleheader Friday.

The Yankees won the opener 1-0 behind Steve Barber's six-hitter, snapping a seven-game Minnesota winning streak and a three-game losing streak of their own.

Ted Uhlaender led off the ninth inning of the nightcap for the Twins, singling for the sixth hit off Fred Talbot. Reese hit for reliever Ron Kline and drove his third homer of the season into the rightfield bleachers.

The Yanks had taken a 3-2 lead in the eighth on Joe Pepitone's sacrifice fly, driving in Jake Gibbs, who singled and moved to third when Jackie Hernandez threw wildly on Tom Tresh's bunt attempt.

The earlier Twins' runs came in the third and fifth innings, both on sacrifice flies by Harmon Killebrew.

Barber, who brought his record to 9-13, struck out four while allowing five walks and one hit-batsman and was in constant trouble in the early part of the game.

The Twins loaded the bases in the first inning with one out but Barber got Bob Allison to ground into an inning-ending double play. Minnesota also had two runners on with one out in the second and loaded the bases again in the fifth but could not push a run across.

Pepitone then singled to right to score Clarke, but Tony Oliva's strong throw to the plate nailed Tresh who was trying to score from second.

Packers Shut Out Punchless Bears With Iron Defense

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The Green Bay Packers parlayed an iron-clad defense and three fieldgoals by Don Chandler into an 18-0 victory over the Chicago Bears Friday night in a bruising National Football League exhibition.

Chandler's field goals were of 37, 45 and 28 yards. The Packers added a third-period safety and a fourth-quarter touchdown by Jim Grabowski from one yard out.

The Bears, who had a net loss of 24 yards passing in the first half, mounted few serious scoring threats. In the first half, the Bears' Bruce Alford missed a 47-yard field goal, and late in the second quarter, Chicago moved to the Green Bay 18 but the drive ended when Tom Brown intercepted a Jack Concannon pass.

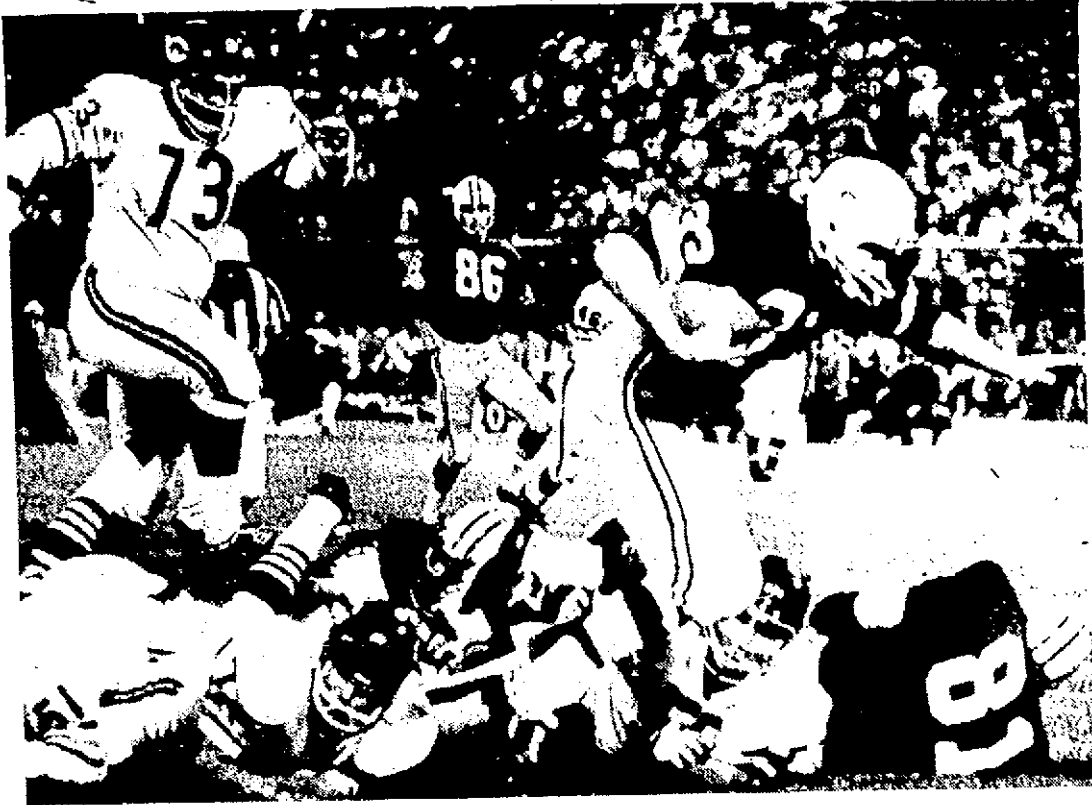

Linebacker Ray Nitschke set up the Packers' only touchdown when he intercepted a pass on Chicago's 38 and returned five yards. Zeke Bratkowski passed 28 yards to Boyd Dowler, and Grabowski capped the brief drive with a one-yard scoring plunge.

Chicago's first drive ended in a punt. The Bears' first drive ended in a punt. The Bears' first drive ended in a punt.

Fun-Loving Namath Tests Eagle Defense

Joe Namath, the fun-loving $400,000 quarterback of the New York Jets, goes against National Football League competition for the first time in one of the leading pro exhibition games this weekend.

Namath, the former Alabama standout who is equally adept at throwing the big bomb or the short pass, leads the Jets of the American League against the NFL Philadelphia Eagles in Cincinnati tonight.

The Jets and Namath were whipped 30-17 by the Kansas City Chiefs, the AFL champions, in their exhibition last week at Birmingham, Ala. They have been painting since to bounce back against the Eagles and demonstrate they can handle the NFL competition.

The game is one of 10 scheduled for the weekend. Six are carded tonight, three Sunday afternoon and one on Monday night which will be nationally televised.

TONIGHT

Philadelphia Eagles vs. New York Jets at Cincinnati.

Pittsburgh Steelers vs. New Orleans Saints at Baton Rouge, La.

New York Giants vs. Washington Redskins at Raleigh, N.C.

Atlanta Falcons vs. Miami Dolphins at Miami, Fla.

Cleveland Browns at Rams.

Kansas City Chiefs vs. Oakland Raiders at Portland, Ore.

SUNDAY

Dallas Cowboys at San Francisco 49ers.

Detroit Lions at San Diego Chargers.

Hawks Snare Last-Inning Victory, 1-0 center scored Chappy Wheeler in the bottom of the seventh inning to give the Long Beach Nitehawks a 1-0 victory over the San Diego Hawks in the State Softball tournament Friday night at Park Ave Field.

Winner Don Sarno and loser Shander Palhegi each allowed three hits in an errorless game.

The win insures the Nitehawks a berth in the finals scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sunday. They would have to be beaten twice in the double-elimination tournament if they are to be deprived of the title and a trip to Rock Island for the World's tourney beginning Friday.

In Friday's opener, John Hunsman pitched a one-hit shutout as Anaheim's Bobcats eliminated Hawthorne's hustlers, 4-0.

Second Game
San Diego 1-0
Long Beach 0-1
Palhegi and Little: Sarno and Stark.

Broncos Embarrass NFL Vikings, 14-9

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Denver Broncos, long the doormat of the American Football League, embarrassed the National Football League for the second time this season with a 14-9 exhibition victory over the Minnesota Vikings Friday night.

Down 3-0 after 28 minutes of play, the Broncos rolled to their two touchdowns on the passing of quarterback Steve Tensi, in camp only three days, after a trade with San Diego.

Tensi touched off the Broncos' first touchdown drive with a 54-yard pass to Eric Crabtree, who fell to the ground at the Viking 30 after grabbing the throw.

On the second play, Tensi flipped a pass intended for Bob Scarpitto on the goal line and officials ruled Ed Sharockman interfered, giving Denver the ball on the one.

Prize rookie Floyd Little from Syracuse carried the ball a bound right end for the touchdown.

Crack Match Race Features Drag Meet

By JIM McCORMACK

Today's normally mundane collection of time trials for places in the A.P.R.A. drag boat eliminations at Marine Stadium will be hyped by an outstanding match race.

Mr. Ed and Climax, which battled to a draw in the July 4th races on the Stadium waterways, will clash again "sometime this morning" to determine top blown fuel and top eliminator titles for the meet.

Larry Schwabenland will handle Mr. Ed, a craft, like Climax, capable of 170 miles per hour in a quarter-mile run.

The jockey for Climax won't be known until race time. It could be owner Gary Brigham, just out of the service, or veteran Dwight Bales.

Jim Ramsey, who was the driver last April and who made Climax the top drag boat in the nation, was killed last Friday in an auto accident near Fresno.

Time trials will begin at 8 a.m. this morning and run until 1 p.m. After a driver's meeting, there will be some VIAREGGIO, Italy (UPI) — America's touring track and field team, less rested and more edgy than its opponents, nevertheless was a heavy favorite to whip athletes from Italy and Spain in a two-day triangular meet beginning tonight.

The Americans, about 50 of them, arrived in town late Friday night after a tiring five and one-half hour bus ride from Milan, Hungary, exhausted and irritated, they ate late at their plush, seaside hotel and bedded down around midnight.

Most of them slept late and were expected to be somewhat rested by the time the meet, third and last of their European tour, got underway at 8 p.m. local time at the Stadium of the Pines.
